

List of Fellows

62.

OF THE

STATISTICAL SOCIETY OF LONDON,

1843-44.

LONDON:

PRINTED FOR THE SOCIETY,

BY W. CLOWES AND SONS, 14, CHARING CROSS.

M DCCC XLIII.

REGULATIONS.

1. THE number of Fellows shall be unlimited. Foreigners of distinction may be admitted Foreign Members, so that there be not more than fifty Foreign Members at any one time. Persons resident out of the United Kingdom may be admitted Corresponding Members. The number of such Members shall be unlimited.

Number of Fellows, Foreign Members, and Corresponding Members.

2. Every candidate for admission as a Fellow of the Society shall be proposed by two or more Fellows, who, by their certificate that he is a fit person to be admitted a Fellow of the Statistical Society of London, shall certify their personal knowledge of him or of his works. Every such certificate shall be read and suspended in the meeting-room of the Society during an Ordinary Meeting, and shall remain suspended until the following Ordinary Meeting, at which the vote shall be taken upon it.

Proposal of Fellows.

3. In the election of Fellows, the votes shall be taken by ballot. No person shall be admitted unless at least sixteen Fellows vote, and unless he have in his favour three-fourths of the Fellows voting.

Election of Fellows.

4. Every Fellow elect shall appear for his admission on or before the third Ordinary Meeting of the Society after his election, or within such time as shall be granted by the Council, otherwise his election shall be void.

Admission of Fellows.

The manner of admission shall be thus :—

Immediately after the reading of the minutes, the Fellow elect, having first paid his subscription for the current year, or composition, shall sign the obligation contained in the Fellowship-Book, to the effect following :—

“ We, who have underwritten our names, do hereby undertake, each for himself, that we will endeavour to further the good of the Statistical Society of London for improving Statistical Knowledge, and the ends for which the same has been founded ; that we will be present at the Meetings of the Society as often as conveniently we can, and that we will keep and fulfil the

“ Rules and Orders of this Society : provided that whensoever any one of us shall make known by writing under his hand, to the President for the time being, that he desireth to withdraw from the Society, he shall be free thenceforward from this obligation.”

Whereon the President, taking him by the hand, shall say,—
 “ By the authority and in the name of the Statistical Society of London, I do admit you a Fellow thereof.”

Admission of Foreign Members and Corresponding Members.

5. There shall be two meetings in the year, on such days as shall be hereafter fixed by the Council, at which Foreign Members may be elected. No Foreign Member can be recommended but by the Council. Any Member of the Council may propose a Foreigner of distinction at any meeting of the Council ; notice thereof shall be given to every Member of the Council, and of the day on which the Council will vote by ballot on the question whether they will recommend the person proposed. No such recommendation to the Society shall be adopted unless at least three-fourths of the votes are in favour thereof. Notice of the recommendation shall be given from the chair at the meeting of the Society next preceding that at which the vote shall be taken thereon. No such recommendation shall be adopted unless at least three-fourths of those voting are favourable.

The Council shall have power to elect Corresponding Members. Fellows of the Society may recommend to the Council persons for election as Corresponding Members.

Payments by Fellows.

6. Every Fellow of the Society shall pay a yearly subscription of Two Guineas, or may at any time compound for his future payments by paying at once the sum of Twenty Guineas. No payments are made by Foreign Members, or by Corresponding Members.

Defaulters.

7. All yearly payments are due on the 1st of January, and if any Fellow of the Society have not paid his subscription before the 1st of June of the following year, he shall be applied to in writing by the Secretaries, and shall cease to receive the Society's publications, and shall not be entitled to any other privileges of the Society, until his arrears are paid.

If they be not paid before the 1st of January of the third year, a written application shall again be made by the Secretaries, and the name of any Fellow of the Society thus in arrear shall be exhibited as a defaulter, on a card suspended in the Meeting Rooms ; and if, at the next Anniversary Meeting, the amount still remain unpaid, the defaulter shall be announced to be no longer a Fellow of the Society, the reason for the same being at the same time assigned. No Fellow of the Society can withdraw his name from the Society's books unless all arrears be paid, and no resignation will be deemed valid unless a written notice thereof be communicated to the Secretaries. No Member shall be entitled to vote at any meeting of the Society until he shall have paid his subscription for the current year.

8. If any Fellow of the Society, or Foreign Member, or Corresponding Member, shall so demean himself that it shall be for the dishonour of the Society that he longer continue to be a Fellow or Member thereof, the Council shall take the matter into consideration; and if a majority of the whole Council at some Meeting (of which and of the matter in hand such Fellow or Foreign Member, and every Member of the Council, shall have due notice,) shall decide by ballot to recommend that such Fellow or Member be expelled from the Society, the President shall at the next Ordinary Meeting announce to the Society the recommendation of the Council, and at the following Meeting the question shall be decided by ballot, and if at least three-fourths of the number voting are in favour of the expulsion, the President shall forthwith cancel the name in the Fellowship-Book, and shall say,—

Expulsion of Fellows.

“By the authority and in the name of the Statistical Society of London, I do declare that A. B. (naming him) is no longer a Fellow (or Member) thereof.”

And such Fellow or Foreign Member, or Corresponding Member, shall thereupon cease to be of the Society.

9. The property of the Society shall be vested in three Trustees, Trustees. chosen by the Fellows. The Trustees are eligible to any other offices in the Society.

10. The business of the Society shall be conducted by a Council, which shall consist of thirty-one Members, including the President. Any five of the Council may act. From the Council shall be chosen a President, four Vice-Presidents, a Treasurer, and three Secretaries. Six Fellows, at least, who were not of the Council of the previous year, shall be annually elected.

President
and Council, and Officers.

11. The Council shall have power to appoint Committees of Committees. Fellows, for the examination of particular questions, and to report thereon to the Council. No such report shall be communicated to the Society which is not approved by the Council.

Election of President,
and Officers.

12. The President shall be chosen yearly by the Fellows ; the same person shall not be eligible more than two years in succession. The Vice-Presidents shall be named by the President, from the Council for the time being. The Treasurer and Secretaries shall be chosen yearly by the Fellows, but may be continually re-elected.

Election of Council.

13. The Council shall, previously to the Anniversary Meeting, nominate, by ballot, the Fellows who they recommend to be the next President and Council of the Society. They shall also recommend a Treasurer and Secretaries. Notice shall be sent to every Fellow whose residence is known, within the limits of the metropolitan post, at least a fortnight before the Anniversary Meeting, of the names on the list which the Council will recommend.

Extraordinary Vacancies.

14. On any extraordinary vacancy of the office of the President, or other Officer of the Society, or in the Council, one of the Secretaries shall summon the Council with as little delay as possible, and a majority of the Council, thereupon meeting in their usual place, shall, by ballot, and by a majority of those present, choose a new President or other officer of the Society, or Member of the Council, to be so until the next Anniversary Meeting.

Meetings, Ordinary and Anniversary.

15. The Ordinary Meetings of the Society shall be monthly during the session, which shall be from the 1st of November to the 1st of July, both inclusive, on such day and at such hour as the Council shall declare at the previous Anniversary Meeting. The Anniversary Meeting shall be on the 15th of March in every year, or on the following day if the 15th of March fall on a Sunday.

Business of Ordinary Meetings.

16. The business of the Ordinary Meetings shall be to admit Fellows, to read and hear reports, letters, and papers on subjects interesting to the Society. Nothing relating to the rules or management of the Society shall be discussed at the Ordinary Meetings, except that the Auditors' Report shall be received at the Ordinary Meeting in February, and that the Minutes of the Anniversary Meeting, and of every Special General Meeting, shall be confirmed at the next Ordinary Meetings after the day of such Anniversary or Special General Meeting. Strangers may be introduced to the Ordinary Meetings by any Fellow, with the leave of the President, Vice-President, or other Fellow presiding at the Meeting.

Business of Anniversary Meeting.

17. The business of the Anniversary Meeting shall be to elect the Officers of the Society, and to discuss questions on its rules and management. No Fellows or Foreign Members shall be proposed or admitted at the Anniversary Meeting. No Fellow shall moot any question on the rules or management of the Society at the Anniversary Meeting, unless after three weeks' notice thereof given to the Council, but amendments to any motion may be brought forward without notice, so that they relate to the same subject of motion. The Council shall give fourteen days' notice to every Fellow of all questions of which such notice shall have been given to them.

18. The Council may, at any time, call a Special General Meeting of the Society when it appears to them necessary. Any ten Fellows may require a Special General Meeting to be called, by notice in writing signed by them, delivered to one of the Secretaries at an Ordinary Meeting, specifying the questions to be moved. The Council shall, within one week of such notice, appoint a day for such Special General Meeting, and shall give one week's notice of every Special General Meeting, and of the questions to be moved, to every Fellow within the limits of the metropolitan post, whose residence is known. No business shall be brought forward at any Special General Meeting other than that specified in the notice for the same. Special
General
Meetings.

19. At the first Ordinary Meeting of each year the Fellows shall choose two Auditors, not of the Council, who, with one of the Council, chosen by the Council, shall audit the Treasurer's accounts, and report thereon to the Society, which report shall be presented at the Ordinary Meeting in February. The Auditors shall be empowered to examine into the particulars of all expenditure of the funds of the Society where they shall see occasion, and may report their opinion upon any part of it. Auditors.

20. The President shall preside at all Meetings of the Society, Council, and Committees, which he shall attend, and, in case of an equality of votes, shall have a second or casting vote. He shall sign all diplomas of admission of Foreign Members. He shall admit and expel Fellows or Members, according to the rules of the Society. Duties of the President.

21. The Treasurer shall receive all monies due to, and pay all monies due from, the Society, and shall keep an account of his receipts and payments. No sum exceeding Ten Pounds shall be paid but by order of the Council, excepting always any lawful demand for rates or taxes. He shall invest the monies of the Society in such manner as the Council shall from time to time direct. Duties of the Treasurer.

Duties of the Secretaries.

22. The Secretaries shall, under the control of the Council, conduct the correspondence of the Society: they or one of them shall attend all Meetings of the Society and Council, and shall have the care of duly recording the Minutes of the Proceedings. They shall issue the requisite notices, and read such papers to the Society as the Council may direct.

Powers of the Vice-Presidents.

23. A Vice-President in the chair shall act with the power of the President, in presiding and voting at any Meeting of the Society or Council, and in admitting Fellows; but no Vice-President shall be empowered to sign diplomas of admission of Foreign Members, or to expel Fellows. In the absence of the President and Vice-Presidents, any Fellow of the Society may be called upon, by the Fellows then present, to preside at an Ordinary Meeting, who may admit Fellows, but shall not be empowered to act otherwise as President, or Vice-President.

Powers of the Council.

24. All communications to the Society are the property of the Society, unless the right of property be especially reserved to themselves by the contributors of communications. The Council shall have control over the papers and funds of the Society, and may, as they shall see fit, direct the publication of papers and the expenditure of the funds, so, nevertheless, that they shall not at any time contract engagements on the part of the Society beyond the amount of the balance that would be at that time in the Treasurer's hands, if all pre-existing debts and liabilities had been satisfied.

25. The Council shall be empowered at any time to frame Regulations not inconsistent with these rules, which shall be, and remain, in force until the next Anniversary Meeting, at which they shall be either affirmed or annulled; but no Council shall have power to renew Regulations which have once been disapproved at an Anniversary Meeting.
